

Well again our members are to be congratulated on the wonderful display of sportsmanship and presentation of each of the fourteen horses presented at this year’s Royal Show.

The afternoon time slot for our judging made conditions a little easier for those who had to travel a distance to attend but it created members having to still present their horses for the Grand Parade before our classes had even commenced.

The Best Presented class had twelve horses presented for judging with this class taking almost thirty minutes before a final line up of six was decided. The winner was the immaculately turned out Adina Park Phedora and Leonie Morrone.

The mare class was contested by seven horses with the judge looking primarily for a good length of rein and rounded frame in the workout. The petite mare USA Legacy and her astonished handler Alex Markowski were awarded Champion Mare. The geldings were divided into two height sections with Prince Pumbaa and Adina Park Darcy Woods winning their respective classes. The big black gelding Adina Park Darcy Woods was awarded Champion Gelding and Ohoka Sonny who was placed second to the winner in his class re-entered the ring to be awarded Reserve Champion.

The Supreme judging required a workout followed by side profiles. Adina Park Darcy Woods was called forward to be sashed Supreme Standardbred Exhibit for 2010. The judge commenting he was a beautiful looking animal with good bone, well balanced and big clean movement.

Unfortunately, the ridden classes had several withdrawals that left three horses in each height class to do battle. Satinka Park Ashtaar competing under saddle at his first Royal worked with his usual calmness when winning the first class to qualify for the Champion Workout. Likewise, the mare Adina Park Phedora had a little too much polish for her rivals in the 15.1hh and over class to be awarded the blue sash.

Both horses were given an individual workout for Champion in what would be a close call as the young gelding again went around without putting a foot wrong. The mare showed her usual flair that resulted in not quite delivering the perfect workout but still displayed her lovely movement and look at me aura that had the judge award Adina Park Phedora and Kristie Morrone their second consecutive Champion Ridden at a Royal. The judge commented to both competitors that she had thoroughly enjoyed judging both these horses and both riders should be very proud of their wonderful performances.
